

The state of Indiana has an effective "No Call List" in place as do many other states. The intrusion (by FCC) to supercede existing state laws is inappropriate.